Through A Glass Darkly: A Reflection on Forty-Five Years in Media

Ken Verdoia, a figure familiar to UU emeriti, most recently from his time at KUED TV, has served as a professional journalist and broadcaster for more than four decades. He will speak to us at our April 10th meeting about his life in media: from print reporter to TV news documentarian and broadcast executive.

Ken is an honors graduate of San Jose State University in California. He has also studied at the University of Utah and other schools, and served as a Fellow of the American Political Science Association in Washington, D.C.

He is recipient of more than one hundred regional, national and international awards for journalistic and broadcast excellence, including his 29th regional Emmy Award in October 2014 from the National Association of Television Arts and Sciences. He has twice been honored by the national Society of Professional Journalists for producing the nation's best television news documentary. In 2007 he received the inaugural Gordon Conable Award from the American Library Association for his defense of freedom of information. In the same year, he received the University of Utah's Service to Journalism Award. Since 2012, he has served as a national fundraising spokesperson for PBS.

Ken is now a media consultant. He has also served as a freelance editor and writer, and held an adjunct faculty appointment in the Department of Communication at the University of Utah. His first book, UTAH: The Struggle for Statehood, was published by the University of Utah Press. ## Wish to Serve? Consider This: University Hospital Volunteer Services

Emeriti don't often think of happily visiting the hospital, but there is a way: You can become a volunteer at the University Hospital.

According to its website, "The Department of Volunteer Services offers a wide range of services to patients, visitors, and staff...We have a wide variety of volunteer opportunities and make an effort to match

[volunteer's] skills and interests with the available placements...Volunteers assist patients, visitors, and staff by providing information and support in many areas."

Some activities which might appeal to emeriti:

- ✓ Staffing the Information Desk. In addition to answering visitor's questions, includes other activities like delivering flowers to patients
- ✓ Surgery Waiting Room. Advocate for families and provide them information.
- ✓ Patient Assistance. Examples would be assisting staff in making sure patients are warm and comfortable and stocking supply carts.
- ✓ Interpreter Services. Spanish is the most requested language.
- ✓ Playing the Piano in the main lobby. If you play, join our own Ed Lueders, a long-time volunteer at the Hospital.

There are several expectations of volunteers, including a 100-hour commitment. There is also an application process which includes a criminal background check. More information on the requirements and the application process is available at the Department of Volunteer Services website: <https://healthcare.utah.edu/volunteer/>. You can also contact the Department by phone: 801-581-2429. Don't let the process daunt you: The Department proudly states, "Our volunteers truly make a difference in others' lives."

Date	Presenter	Program
May 8 Tuesday	Resident Artists of the Utah Symphony/Utah Opera	A Tribute to Leonard Bernstein

Emeriti News You Go Girl!

According to Noel de Nevers, the highlight of Klancy Clark de Nevers's year occurred on her 84th birthday. Noel took her out to dinner and a show. As they entered the bar/restaurant for dinner, the gatekeeper demanded to see proof that she was at least 21 years old. She was flattered! Eternal youth!

Emeritus Hiking Group Multicultural Trip for 2018

Logan Canyon July 17-20, 2018

Hoping to appeal to more people, we are staying closer to home this year. We have discovered that many do not know the beauty of Logan Canyon or the diversity of activities available in summer. As usual our Camp/Motel trip lets you decide on how close you want to be to nature. Those on the hiking mailing list have already received a PowerPoint description of the trip. Those of you not on the list can request it from suzanne.stensaas@hsc.utah.edu

As always, family and grandchildren are welcome. We have reserved the group campsite 5 miles up the canyon from downtown Logan, at Spring Hollow. This permits easy coordination of group potlucks, hikes, and other activities.

A few of the outdoor activities include:

- Hiking the Crimson Trail behind camp and loop back along the river.
- Logan River Trail or Wind Cave Trail
- Climbing Mt. Naomi in the Bear River Mountains
- Drive to Tony Grove Lake and/or hiking on to White Pine Lake
- Bear Lake and Minnetonka Cave near St. Charles
- Bird Watching while canoeing on Cutler Reservoir or along Logan River

This year's location also adds the option of arranging for cultural activities including:

- Utah Festival Opera matinees and evenings
- International Opera Competition
- Lyric Theater in repertory (USU)
- Logan historic walk and tabernacle
- Hyrum Reservoir State Park
- Nora Eccles Harrison Museum of Art – USU
- Good restaurants and Aggie ice cream
