Emeriti NEWSLETTER

No. 2 October 2019

For our November Luncheon, Jack Newell Assesses the Impact of Three U of U Icons: McMurrin, Tanner, and Bennion.

Since coming to the University of Utah in 1974, Jack Newell has made many contributions here and in our larger community. As Dean of Liberal Education for 16 years, he developed and guided a comprehensive and widely acclaimed undergraduate Liberal Education Program required of all U of U undergraduates. In 1995 he left the University to lead Deep Springs College, a highly selective and academically distinguished institution in a gorgeous setting in rural California. After returning from this assignment 15 years ago, Jack has worked tirelessly on behalf of students in the Honors College and in the Salt Lake community. Since 2005 he has taught a two-semester course in “Ethics, Leadership, and the Humanities” for entering freshmen who have been awarded a prestigious Eccles Honors Scholarship.

Jack has continued his personal scholarship most recently as co-editor, with Bob Goldberg and Linda Newell, of Conscience and Community: Sterling McMurrin, Obert C. Tanner, Lowell L. Bennion (University of Utah Press, 2018), the basis for his November 12 emeriti luncheon presentation. Influential colleagues and professors at the U of U during the mid-20th century, all three had been influenced directly by the Mormon culture but, in the words of Lavina Fielding Anderson, “raised underappreciated but eloquent voices...with robust liberalism, tough integrity, and loyalty to principle.” McMurrin, Tanner, and Bennion were “remarkable friends, teachers, and mentors” who, in diverse ways and in challenging situations, made impactful contributions to the University, the larger community, and the world.

Having Trouble Finding a Parking Space for Our Luncheons?

The most convenient place for Emeriti to park is east of the Student Union. 1 That lot can be quite busy, so here is information about two other lots nearby that offer free parking for your registered cars.

One is the parking lot west of the Marriott Library and south of the Bookstore. 2 [Hint: Take the elevator in the Marriott Library to the 3rd floor; easy walk from there.]

The other is north of the Student Services Building. 3 Going east on 100 South take the first right turn after crossing University Street then turn left, then right and another left.

Would a Ride Be Helpful?

If we were able to provide a golf cart ride for you for our luncheons, from the front of the Union Building to the Saltair Room, would you be interested in taking advantage of this for future luncheons? If so, email me at anne.decker@utah.edu and include the number of riders who would generally be in your party.

Emeriti Honored

“Known as ‘the ambidextrous Irishman,’ Edward Hashimoto, MD, was a popular professor of anatomy at University of Utah School of Medicine for more than 50 years [1935-1985]. This new exhibit of Hashimoto published by the Spencer S. Eccles Health Sciences Library revisits his remarkable teaching career and emergence as a beloved faculty member known for his unorthodox style.” --From the U of U Health Sciences website.

!!!! CUSTOMIZED JUST FOR US !!!!

TOUR 2020: Mayflower 400+ Tour of England ~ May 21- June 1 ~

A half dozen lovely little villages, three English Channel ports, three stately homes, three cathedral cities, two royal tombs, two manor houses, a market town or two, one Castle inhabited for a thousand years, one medieval university, one foundational document for democracy, one spanking new gallery /museum, one reconstructed Elizabethan playhouse, and one 16th century riverfront pub known to the crew of the Mayflower. Along the way some beautiful gardens and handsome parkland as well. Did I mention the jail cells? That's the rough tally for the Emeriti Club tour set for the latter half of May 2020, a Mayflower-themed excursion to England and so much more, where you can brush up on your history while roving the unfrequented corners of an island nation, eating pub lunches and staying at a coaching inn or two. And if you need more numbers: 12 days, 22 included meals, and plans for one direct flight each direction. There are trickier numbers as well: because this is a customized tour designed solely for us, we must have an absolute minimum of 15 people for the tour to go; and the more people we get, the less the tour will cost, so bring your family and tell your friends and neighbors! We would top out at no more than 30 travelers, a comfortably sized group. For more details, see the brief itinerary below:

Day 1: Depart SLC on Delta's direct flight to London Heathrow.

Day 2: Arrive London. Transfer to Windsor for lunch, town walk & visit to the Castle. Overnight Windsor. LD

Day 3: Runnymede: Magna Carta signed; JFK memorial. Southampton: guided walk, Tudor House & Garden. BLD

Day 4: Dartmouth: river cruise, Bayard's Cove Harbour. Free time. On to Plymouth for 2 nts. BD

Day 5: Plymouth: Mayflower steps, Barbican, Sutton Harbour, new gallery/museum The Box. Cross Plymouth Sound to visit early Georgian Antony House with Repton landscaping. B

Day 6: North through Somerset Levels to Droitwich Spa: visit St. Peter's Church, see Winslow Memorial. Then to Worcester: tour cathedral, see King John's tomb. Overnight Worcester area. BLD

Day 7: Leicester: guided tour of cathedral to see Richard III's new burial place. On to Lincoln: visit Castle, see Magna Carta. Perhaps enjoy evensong in the Cathedral. 2 nts in Lincoln. BD

Day 8: Excursion: Monastic church of Worksop; villages of Babworth (All Saints Church), Scrooby, Austerfield, Sturton-le-Steeple, Gainsborough. Visit Gainsborough Old Hall. BLD

Day 9: Boston: Guildhall & Pilgrim cells, St. Botolph's Church aka the "Boston Stump." Near Peterborough a specially arranged visit to Elton Hall & its beautiful gardens. On to Cambridge for overnight. BD

Day 10: Cambridge: walking tour of the University, including visits to King's College Chapel & Trinity College. Visit early C17 "prodigy house" Audley End with Adam interiors & Capability Brown park. On to London for 2 nts. B

Day 11: London: Explore the South Bank: visit Shakespeare's Globe & Southwark Cathedral. Lunch at Mayflower Pub in Rotherhithe. Free time. BL

Day 12: Depart London Heathrow for SLC. B OPTION: Extend your stay in London, breakfasts included!

Land cost: $3399ppdo (for the minimum 15 travelers; amount will decrease at 20, 25, & 30)

Deposit: $250 Due Dec. 1, 2019 Final payment due: Feb. 3, 2020

Guided Tour: Power Couples Exhibition

Come join us Tuesday, Nov. 19, at 1:00pm for a guided tour through Power Couples: The Pendant Format in Art! This intriguing exhibition—drawn chiefly, though not exclusively, from UMFA's own collections—examines how artists from 16th century Europe to contemporary Utah have used works conceived as pairs to explore gender roles and social status; to present before-and-after, cause-and-effect, departure-and-return; and to compare and contrast familiar stories and ideas. Arrive at 11:30 to enjoy lunch with us at the Café. And don't forget the Museum Shop full of wonderful gift items and books! Please fill out the reservation form on page five.

Emeriti Hiking Group News

The Emeriti Hiking Group encourages you to join us on our Friday trips. We hope to see the fall colors at their peak in various locations. Weekly notices go to those on the e-mail list. We currently need another co-coordinator to work with Suzanne Stensaas, as Bill Gray's Native Plant Society obligations have increased. The coordinator need not go on all the hikes but should be familiar with MS Word and email. We also ask those who hike to step forward and suggest or lead a hike each year. We usually have 8-12 people on the hikes. Do join us when you can and choose an easy or moderate hike. They are usually 3-5 miles. Contact Suzanne.Stensaas@hsc.utah.edu for more information.
